CONTENTS LIST OF THE MANAGEMENT QUARTERLY

ISSUE	CONTENTS
No. 1 May 1964	Introduction by Dr Beeching. Report on a management conference at York – closing the gap (between expenses and revenue).
No. 2 August 1964	Redundancy and resettlement. New charges for small consignments. The advertising policy of BR. Buying for the railways. XP64 – new prototype passenger coaches (with coloured photos). Engineers as managers. Photo - the BR Productivity Council. British Transport Films. Book review ('Office Economy by Organisation and Methods').
No. 3 November 1964	Progress with the reshaping of British Railways. The new commercial organisation at Board headquarters. The Minister of Transport, Tom Fraser. The planning & possibilities of mechanised permanent-way work (with photos) A new identity for British Railways. Freight rolling stock: coping with peak demands. Accidents - emotion or logic? Central banking at the British Transport Commission. British Transport Films.
No. 4 February 1965	Developments and progress in 1964. Executive responsibility scheme (for looking after their big customers). The progress of merry-go-round (with photo of wagon). The market for Freightliners. Commercial management information. British Transport Films.
Supplement February 1965	Three important public statements of policy:- Management and Transport. British Railways: a progress report. The future of railways in Great Britain.
No. 5 June 1965	A message by the new Chairman, Sir Stanley Raymond, with photo. The organisation of British Railways. The London plan for freight sundries traffic. Iron and steel traffic: what we are doing and what needs to be done. Officers' Conference 1965: management for success. Allocation of charges for wagons, containers and sheets. Positive aspects of reshaping. Towards a market-orientated railway business. British Transport Films.
No. 6 August 1965	General merchandise and the liner train (with map). Developing the liner train project (with several photos of rolling stock, containers and fittings – some in colour):- Planning and operational research. Work study. Operation and maintenance. Terminals and road services. Claims organisation. Programmed instruction. Freight rolling stock - the marketing viewpoint. British Transport Films.

ISSUE	CONTENTS
No. 7 November 1965	Making full use of our assets. The national sundries plan. Passenger sales: targets and developments. Unit loading on British Railways (with drawings, map and photographs). The control of public transport (by the government). The future of American railroads. British Transport Films. Retirements and new appointments (with photographs).
No. 8 February 1966	The financial situation. Area management in Scotland. The national freight train plan. BR workshops - their reorganisation and future role (with several photographs). Progress of the corporate identity programme. Railway carryings of exports and imports. British Railways - a New Year review. Computers in offices. British Transport Films.
Supplement April 1966	Management development in British Rail.
No. 9 July 1966	The Government's transport policy Making better use of diesel and electric locomotives. British Rail parcels services. Company trains (i.e., freight trains exclusive to one customer). Export sundries - a potentially profitable traffic. Team work gets business. National operating strategy – a new planning technique. 'Rail News'. British Transport Films.
No. 10 November 1966	Freight transport and the White Paper. High-speed guided surface transport. Natural gas and the fuel transport market. Commercial research. Using research to reduce costs. Petroleum - growth, prospects and transport requirements. British Rail and the World Cup competition. Quality and Reliability Year. Research department topics. Big business. A shilling for your thoughts (at various salaries, how much earned every minute). British Transport Films.
No. 11 February 1967	The merger (between the Eastern and the North Eastern Regions). Progress and problems (from an interview with the Chairman). TV and the Inter-City campaign (with map of TV regions and no-coverage areas). Integration with the welfare state (a new pension fund for their waged staff). Coal concentration progress. British Rail pest control service. Corporate identity - a measure of management (with several photographs, including some showing misinterpretations of the manual). Developing managers on the job. Productivity: value v cost. Productivity: rail/road comparisons. British Transport Films.

ISSUE	CONTENTS
No. 12 May 1967	Quality and Reliability Year. Chairman's address to the TSSA annual conference. Sundries and parcels: new developments. Progress of the national traction plan. Personal savings (the BTC Savings Bank). Central control of freight rolling stock. BR network for development, with map. The Channel Tunnel. Productivity in the operating field. British Rail in Derby. British Transport Films.
No. 13 September 1967	Shaping the railway's future. Containers and international transport. Discounted cash flow. British Rail sells in North America. Commercial advertising streamlined (with photographs). The architect's role in good management (with photographs). Transport in the EEC. Freightliner advertising plan 1967. British Transport Films.
No. 14 January 1968	A New Year message from the Chairman (H C Johnson). Transport in transition:- Railway finances: the background. The transport white papers - 1 railway policy - 2 the transport of freight - 3 Public transport & traffic Planning a viable wagonload system. The integral freight plan. Productivity payments for guards. The national telecommunications plan (with map). Railroad marketing: a European view (with photograph). Railway prospects: an international view. British Transport Films.
No. 15 June 1968	Interim freight policy. Data processing: national systems. The Derby computing service. Decimal currency. Marketing maritime services. Design and development of rolling stock. Productivity developments in passenger marketing. Design and print (the passenger timetables). Towards a common transport policy in the EEC. British Transport Films.
No. 16 October 1968	Penzance, Windsor - and after (new pay and productivity agreements). Pay and efficiency in the clerical grades. Clerical work data (an improved way to measure the work of clerical staff). Selective pricing of passenger services. Crime prevention on British Rail. Changes in the conditions of carriage of passengers. Phosphorus stops the sparks flying (a new brake-block material). Information displays. Book review (‘The manager’s guide to industrial relations’). British Transport Films. Financial results.
Supplement November 1968	The Transport Act 1968.

ISSUE	CONTENTS
No. 17 March 1969	The preparation and working of freight trains. The Working Manual for rail staff. The Derby Computing Service. Pay and efficiency: supervisors. How business buys its transport. Railway personnel management. Grant-aided railway services. Communications in the railway industry. Decimal money. Transport developments in the EEC. British Transport Films.
Supplement July 1969	"Teach-in" on planning:- Corporate planning. British Rail's freight business. Passenger business plans. Manpower planning.
No. 18 August 1969	Capital reconstruction. Data processing training. Handling: problems and solutions. Pay and efficiency: railway shopmen. Containers in international transport. Co-ordination of transport in London. "The Second Revolution". Efficient short haul by British Rail. British Transport Films.
No. 19 December 1969	Shaping our future. Objectives and organisation. The task ahead. Making better use of wagons. Internal audit. Railway freight services: present and future. The proposed National Superannuation Scheme. BRUTE trains for parcels traffic. Mechanical handling notes. British Transport Films. Staff suggestions.
No. 20 May 1970	The future of grant-aided services. Railway organisation – the second stage. The essential base for marketing and movement planning. Passenger Transport Authorities and Executives. Infrastructure grants. Mechanical handling notes. British Transport Films. Management: guide to relevant literature.
No. 21 December 1970	Meeting social responsibilities. Commuter services in the 70's. Intersystem comparisons. Productivity performance and public ownership. British Transport Films.
Transport Policy July 1976	'An opportunity for change'. Comments by the British Railways Board on a Government Consultation Document.

CONTENTS LIST OF THE RAIL MANAGER

ISSUE	CONTENTS
No. 1 May 1979	1978 – a year of stress and strain. British Steel – British Rail's challenge. A hundred years of train catering: celebrating a centenary. European transport infrastructure – railways. The Great Railway Poster Competition.
No. 2 November 1979	Towards a humanitarian transport policy. The reputation of British Rail. The Contract, Government cash limits and the manager. The work of the BT Films Service.
No. 3 March 1980? (undated)	Avoidable costs and the measurement of sector profitability. Freightliner – a profitable business. Inquiry on lorries, people and the environment. Cross-Channel Rail Link.
No. 4 July 1980	Railways and the optimum use of energy. Tourism – a route to growth. A new opinion survey. Advertising – essential for our survival.
No. 5 November 1980	Managing in the Eighties. Technology for the railways of the future. British economic strategy. Improving the railway environment.
No. 6 March 1981	Electrification. Introduction of private capital. Railfreight – a time for change. Human resources dimension. Railway safety.
No. 7 May 1981	Better quality means changing methods. The Engineering case for Electrification. A record year for Transmark. Investment benefits regional centres.
No. 8 August 1981	Research contributes to industry. BR and the Armitage Report. Communications: a personal view. The Passenger Challenge. Train catering means a good deal. Role of the railway in Scotland.
No. 9 November 1981	The open station system. BR and the European Economic Community. MANIS – the Manpower information system. Experimental passenger services. BR in the Electronic Age.
No. 10 March 1982	Towards a cost-effective railway. The future for Hoverspeed. Managing the safety of operations.